

Considering starting a business? Want tips to grow an existing business?

This book will benefit those with risk-taking and independent behavioral styles. Read the stories and strategies of successful career entrepreneurs who both counsel others and who have grown their own business.

- Learn how to overcome challenges with clients or work associates.
- Discover entrepreneurial mentors and models.
- Access print and online resources for further exploration.
- Perform exercises to apply concepts and models.
- Learn how to organize your entrepreneurial process on your computer.

$15.00 Members
$25.00 Retail

I like this book, a lot! More and more workers these days are attracted to the idea of running their own business, but lack lessons in how to do that. Now they can listen in to interviews with people who have gone down the road before them – successful, articulate, smart, reflective people talking about how they started their own business. (I know two-thirds of them personally). Required reading, if you are even thinking about starting your own business.

Richard N. Bolles, Author,
2007 What Color Is Your Parachute? (9 million copies in print)

Starting a business without a strategic plan is like sailing the seas without a map. Sooner or later you will end up on the rocks. The quicker you plan, the sooner you will earn.

Dan Geller, Small Business Administration (SBA) Business Counselor,
President of Instant Strategist

EDITOR: Sally Gelardin, Ed.D. (International & Multicultural Education), career educator, coach, counselor, and business developer, has initiated and managed several local and international businesses.

CONTRIBUTORS: Marcia Bench, Jack Chapman, Robert Chope, Edward Colozzi, Donna Christner-Lile, Ron Elsdon, Dan Geller, Lynn Joseph, Jennifer Kahnweiler, Carolyn Kalil, Richard Knowdell, Gail Liebhaber, Randy Miller, Martha Russell, Michael Shahnasarian, Susan Whitcomb

NATIONAL CAREER DEVELOPMENT ASSOCIATION

305 N. Beech Circle, Broken Arrow, OK 74012.

Toll-free: 1-866-367-6232

www.ncda.org